Cerebrating Davao Japanese Community 100 years Anniversary

Madayaw!

On behalf of the City Government of Davao, I would like to extend my greetings to the Japanese community in Davao City on the momentous occasion of your 100th Anniversary. From the establishment of Japanese schools and organizations to having our very own "Little Tokyo" in Mintal, Japanese imprints have become more and more vivid across the landscapes of Davao City. For a century now, the longstanding friendship between Japanese and Davaoeños has gone to great lengths from tourism to environmental protection to poverty alleviation.

The 100th Anniversary of the Davao Japanese Community is a celebration of a century of Japanese people being a part of the Davao City community. The harmony and comradeship built among the Davao Japanese Community have significantly influenced the course of the development of Davao City, and contributed to the city's growth over the years. This is a centennial of friendship built in confidence, a friendship that has led to numerous promising engagements in both our nations.

The people of Davao City stand with you in the celebration of your centennial anniversary and in recognition of your many achievements in improving Philippine-Japanese relations.

May you keep on leaving imprints of positive change in the community.

Once again, congratulations!

Sara Z. Duterte
SARA Z. DUTERTE
City Mayor

I would like to extend my heartfelt congratulations on the auspicious occasion of Davao Japanese Community 100 years anniversary.

Inspired by the start of our Japanese ancestors growing and processing Manila hemp, Kitakyushu became green sister city with Davao to develop a deeper relationship between our two cities. Jointly engaged in actions to improve the environment in Davao City, our cities are now connected by an unshakable bond. In this milestone year, it is my hope that many people will learn more about the relationship between our two countries, as well as Kitakyushu City, and have a chance to experience Japanese culture and food, creating even broader and deeper ties between the Philippines and Japan into the next generation.

KENJI KITAHASHI

Mayor, City of Kitakyushu

It is my great pleasure to welcome you all to the 100th Anniversary of the Davao Japanese Community celebrations. In 1903, the first group of Japanese contract workers arrived in Davao to engage in the abaca industry. This eventually started the continuous flow of migration from Japan to this area.

After deciding to settle here, they formed the Davao Japanese Association in 1918, then in 1920, a Japanese Consulate Office was established. Those Japanese migrants, as a community, contributed significantly to development of Davao, not only in the abaca industry but also in infrastructure construction. The number of Japanese had reached to around 20,000 before WW2. For the early Japanese migrants, Davao was the land of promise because of its fertile land for agriculture. This concept is valid to Japanese companies even today because of Davao's rapidly growing economy, abundant natural resources, and excellent access to BIMPEAGA region.

In January of this year, the Consular Office of Japan in Davao was upgraded to a full-fledged Consulate General. The new status is a concrete proof that Japan puts a high regard on its relationship with Davao City, Mindanao and the Philippines, as a whole.

In this milestone year for Davao Japanese community, Japan-related organizations decided to arrange this special celebration to promote Japan as well as to strengthen Japan-Davao relationships in the fields of culture, business, tourism and food. I hope this centennial celebration will be an opportunity for us to look back on how far our relationship has gone through as well as envision on what more can be done to further strengthen our friendship in the next 100 years. Rest assured that the Japanese community here looks forward to collaborating on projects that would be mutually beneficial to both of our people and making our relationship based on real partnership.
